

Hello,

Let me introduce myself. I am Camila Figueroa Caorsi, I from Chile with Italian background. I have two careers; publicist and Industrial designer. I have basted experience being a successful Customer Manager, Product Manager and digital Account Manager/executive for high value corporative clients.

I stand out for being an enthusiastic person willing to learn in a team oriented environment. I am highly self-demanding, consistent and persistent in goals achievement. I have well developed and exceptional communication and interpersonal skills. I count with focused skills on versatility, client maintaining relationships and projects management. Additionally, teamwork, commitment, methodology, processes, proactivity, tasks and functions planner. During my free times I like to meditate and modeling. I have the strong belief that time cannot be bought or recovered, that is the main reason to do what we are passionate about and be fully committed. I look forward to get in contact and work with you.

Regards,

Camila
